Discontinuance of Arm* Development Studio 5 (DS-5) Intel® SoC FPGA Edition and migration to Arm* Development Studio for Intel® SoC FPGA (Arm* DS for Intel® SoC FPGA)

Description:

The Arm* Development Studio 5 (DS-5) Intel® SoC FPGA Edition software was discontinued and migrated to Arm* Development Studio for Intel® SoC FPGA (Arm* DS for Intel® SoC FPGA). Starting from Intel Quartus® Prime software version 20.1, support for Arm* DS-5 was dropped from the Intel Quartus Prime software (Pro and Standard editions). Customers will now have to purchase the Arm* DS software (part number: ESW-DS-FIX) separately to receive a license serial number. Customers can purchase the new Arm* DS for Intel SoC FPGA software in the following link:

<https://buyfpga.intel.com/PartDetail?partId=4285598>

Customers who have purchased Arm* DS-5 before Intel Quartus Prime software version 20.1 will continue to have access to Arm* DS-5 with Intel Quartus Prime software version 19.4 and previous releases, with support for up to 1-year under the terms of Arm's license agreement.

Intel continues to support product issues for non-obsolete devices supported by Arm* DS-5. The versions covered by this announcement include all variants of these versions that support different operating systems. This software discontinuance applies only to Arm* DS-5 software, not to the related Intel FPGA devices. The software versions will no longer be available for download, do not include the latest functional and security updates, and will not be supported with any additional functional, security, or other updates. All versions are provided as is.

Recommended Actions:

Intel recommends that users of the Arm* DS-5 software upgrade to the available Arm* DS for Intel SoC FPGA software version. Users should keep their software up to date.
